Northshore Students Return to Buildings for Hybrid Learning

Ruby Bridges Elementary opens doors to students for first day of in-person instruction

Bothell, Wash. – On Monday, April 5 the Northshore School District welcomed back students in grades K-5, along with students in the District's Adult Transition Program, and Functional Skills and Academics (FSA) program. Early Childhood Education & Assistance Program (ECEAP), Headstart started in-person learning last week. Notably, this was the first day that the District's newest elementary school, Ruby Bridges Elementary, had students on campus for in-person learning.

With the safety of students, staff and families as top priority, certain student groups are returning to classrooms for in-person instruction and other student groups will come to school campuses for transition and support activities. Remote learning will continue for students whose families choose to keep them home. The District will welcome students in cohort B to return for in-person learning on Thursday, April 8. Secondary students are scheduled to return to campus on Monday, April 19.
